DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 21-25, 29, 30 and 39-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weber et al. (5,759,172) in view of Abele et al. (6,010,480).

Weber reference discloses a medical balloon with a plurality of structures when in the contracted condition (see figure 4). The balloon has at least three structures and are T-shaped (see figure 3). The structures can overlap at least slightly when contracted (see figure 5). Each structure has a base made of a double layer of balloon and a wing extends in each direction from the base. However, Weber reference does not disclose the structures maintain the T-shaped wings in the contracted or folded condition.

Attention is drawn to Abele reference, which teaches a suitable balloon folding alternative where the fold can have a structure with a base and wings extending in opposite directions from the base (see figure 2). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to fold the balloon structures of Weber reference in the manner taught by Abele reference (i.e. T-shaped structures with oppositely extending wings) because it appears both folding methods would perform equally well and one of ordinary skill in the art would have recognized that a balloon can be folded in more than one way.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 29 September 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

4. Applicant argues one of ordinary skill in the art would not have folded the structures of Weber reference in the manner taught by Abele reference. However, folding the structures of the balloon of Weber in any manner is well within the level of one of ordinary skill in the art as the structures are capable of being folded in more than one way. Doing so merely amounts to using a known technique (the folding into a T-shape as taught by Abele et al.) to improve a known device (the balloon with structures disclosed by Weber et al.). KSR, 550 U.S. at ___, 82 USPQ2d at 1396

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

6. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
